Mayor Explains BAWI Act

STATE'S LEADERS MAKE EVERY EFFORT TO PREVENT MUNICIPALITIES FROM TAKING POSSIBLE WRONG STEP

If and when the Commission Council of Bay St. Louis places before the people the proposition of voting "yes" or "no" on a bond issue for the purpose of locating an industrial plant in this community, it shall do so only after a searching investigation has been made of the industrial prospect by the Mississippi Agricultural & Industrial Board. Such was the statement made by Mayor Warren Carver in reply to questions concerning the possibility of the taxpayers assuming a heavy responsibility for construction of plant facilities for a prospect interested in locating here, and which prospect may turn out to be a bad risk.

The Balance-Agriculture-With-Industry law, further explained the mayor, was originally passed by the Legislature in 1940 and amended later by the Legislature of 1944. The Agriculture & Industrial Board consists of the governor, the speaker of the House of Representatives, two members from the state senate, two members from the house of representatives, the commissioner of agriculture, the state chemist, the state geologist, and ten members from the state at large to be selected and appointed by the governor. These ten members serve for four years and their selection is made strictly on the basis of their ability as proven leaders in the business world.

Before the Commission Council can call an election on a bond issue for the purpose of constructing an industrial plant, the Council must first make application to the A & I Board for a certificate of public convenience and necessity from the A & I Board as to whether the general welfare requires that Bay St. Louis enter into a given enterprise. In determining whether such certificates shall be issued, the Board may hold public hearings, or private hearings, make such investigations as may be desired, and to order issued such certificates of convenience and necessity as the Board may deem advisable.

In considering and determining whether or not such certificates shall be issued, the board shall find and determine affirmatively the following:

1. That there are sufficient natural resources readily and economically available for the operation of the particular enterprise for at least ten years, but in no event less than the period of time for which any bonds may be issued for acquiring or constructing said enterprise.
2. That there is available a labor supply to furnish at least one and one-half workers between the ages of eighteen and fifty for each operative job in said enterprise within an area of twenty-five miles from the proposed location.
3. That there are adequate property values and suitable financial conditions so that total bonded indebtedness of the municipality, solely for the purposes authorized by this act, shall not exceed twenty per cent of the total assessed valuation of all property in the municipality.

A most important point for the public to consider, continued Mayor Carver, is the fact that in no event shall the A & I Board authorize any municipality actually to operate any enterprise under the BAWI Act, unless the Board shall find and determine that

Community Travel Committee Named

Public Meeting to be Called Wednesday, June 7th at 8:00 P. M.

Governor Fielding L. Wright announced today the appointment of Mayor Warren Carver as Chairman of the local Community Travel Committee.

The Community Travel Promotion plan is an attempt made by the Mississippi Agricultural & Industrial Board to help each community develop its tourist and recreational interests and profit financially and otherwise by doing so.

In naming his Community Travel Committee chairman for each municipality in the State which has indicated a desire to take part in the program, Governor Wright stated that in recent years Mississippi has enjoyed a growing tourist and recreation business. It has been estimated that this industry annually amounts to approximately $200,000,000. "These tourist and recreation dollars benefit everyone, directly or indirectly," continued Gov. Wright. "They add to the general prosperity and welfare of the State."

Immediately upon being notified that he had been named chairman of the Community Travel Committee, Mayor Carver named the following men to serve with him in an effort to carry the program through to a successful conclusion: T. T. Robin, vice-chairman; H. W. LeTissier, secretary-treasurer.

Members of the advertising and publicity committee named are: John Damborino, editor of the Hancock County Sea Coast Echo; A. G. Favre, editor of the "Miss Hospitality" Committee named by the mayor are: Commissioners J. Cyril Glover and Sylvan J. Ladner, Jr.; Geo. Stevenson, Arthur Chapman, and Dr. B. L. Ramsey.

A meeting will be called by the Community Travel Committee on Thursday, June 7, 1950, at 8 p. m. of all those interested in the development of this section as a tourist and recreation area. To this meeting are invited all members of the Chamber of Commerce, members of all civic clubs, civic officers, county officers, newspaper publishers, federated women's clubs, garden clubs, Parent-Teachers Association, all retail merchants, members of Veterans' Organizations, hotel and tourist court

REPLICA OF LIBERTY BELL TO BE HERE MONDAY, JUNE 5th

The Independence Drive for savings bonds is well under way and the slogan of the drive "Liberty" is signified by the Liberty Bell, America's most cherished symbol.

The Hancock County drive is well under way and in order that the interest will be kept up, Bay St. Louis will be visited by an exact replica of the Liberty Bell on Monday morning, June 5, at 9 o'clock.

Forty nine replicas of the Liberty Bell are on tour of the nation during the drive. Six of the countries, great copper companies, donated the necessary amount of copper to make these forty nine bells, and Dr. Arthur Bigelow, Beltsmaster at Princeton University, and one of America's foremost carilloners is serving as the casting and production consultant on the drive. In order to assure accuracy of tone, Dr. Bigelow measured the Liberty Bell with callipers and went to Europe to supervise the manufacture of these bells. For the first time since 1835, when the Liberty Bell cracked as it tolled for the funeral of John Marshall, all living Americans for the first time will be able to hear the Bell's actual tone, and we in Bay St. Louis will hear it Monday morning at 9:00 o'clock at the head of Main St. and the Beach when the duplicate original arrives on a specially constructed truck that was furnished this drive by the Ford Motor Company.

When the Bell arrives, it will be greeted by a special delegation from the American Legion and the VFW and will be escorted into town by a special escort befitting of such an occasion.

Mayor Warren Carver and other dignitaries will be on hand to greet this great American symbol of Liberty and Independence.

CONGRATULATING THE GRADS

The 1950 crop of graduates of Hancock County schools may have finished their educational training but they must realize, as they face this perplexed world, the future holds a problem for them that cannot be solved entirely by the fact that they hold a diploma.

We see no reason for pessimism on the part of the graduates but nothing is to be gained by ignoring the stern facts that confront modern civilization. To learn these facts, to understand their causes and to intelligently meet them is to score a life success regardless of the tricks that fate may have in store.

We congratulate the young people who have earned the diplomas they receive. Due recognition of their successful study is well-merited. After all, the young students have met and mastered difficulties that, at their age, are equal to any that they will meet later on.

WILL POLIO STRIKE IN 1950?

The people of Hancock County, in common with others throughout the nation, are hoping that the current year will not produce a repetition of the 1949 poliomyelitis epidemic which was the worst in the country's history, striking 42,375 persons. If the disease continues its attacks, we can be comforted by the information reported by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

This organization admits that "no practical means of control" can be promised within a given number of years but reports "promising leads" to discoveries that may make possible control of the feared disease. Drugs, serums and vaccines against polio are at least "within the realm of possibility." Already definite progress has been made in isolating and identifying the types of virus or poison that cause infantile paralysis.

Another interesting item in the annual report of the organization, issued late in May, is that eighty per cent of the 1949 victims were assisted by the 2,822 chapters scattered throughout the United States. No person who came to the organization for help was turned away, although 1,089 chapters went broke "meeting the demands of the epidemic." All told, the chapters spent about $16,000,000 of their own funds and, in addition, about $11,000,000 in emergency assistance from the Foundation itself.

PEACE OVERLAYS

Peace over the world, not peace over the world, is the keynote of the day. The peace conference at San Francisco, which opened on May 9, 1945, and closed on September 2, 1945, was the most important event in the world since the end of the war. It was a landmark in the history of the world, for it was the first time since the end of the war that the world's great powers met in a conference to discuss the future of the world.

RUSSIA STILL UNCOOPERATIVE

NOT TOO OPTIMISTIC

We do not wish to be pessimistic in drawing our own conclusions about the peace conference. But, having had a similar experience of a conference with Stalin, immediately following World War II, and having learned first-hand the operation of the Stalin-Polish pact, we must be realistic enough to say that there is not too much room for optimism as a result of that conference. It is safe to assume: 1. The peace conference at San Francisco did most of the talking, Stalin did most of the listening. 2. Stalin gave up the idea of world peace, but did not disclose Russia's hand. 3. Russia is willing to cooperate, but on Russia's terms, which is a one-way street. 4. No real and constructive results will come from the meeting.

VIEWS and REVIEWS

WHAT THEY SAY WHETHER RIGHT OR WRONG

by STONY LEE

The following story, taken from the April-May issue of "Small Business Review," was thought to be interesting enough to reprint for your enjoyment. The author is unknown so if you happen to know who this witty person might be, please step forward so that credit may be placed where credit is due.

A New Orleans attorney, representing a Louisiana client called at the R.F.C. office in Washington concerning a loan for his client. Upon being informed that the loan would be granted if title to the property was good and sufficient, the lawyer returned home. After exhaustive work over a period of about three months, he ran the title down to the year 1803 and with a rather voluminous but most accurate abstract of title by mail to the R.F.C. asking application in proper form for the loan.

Presently he received a letter from the R.F.C. reading: "Dear Sir, we received your letter today enclosing application for loan on your client, supported by abstract of title. Let us compliment you on the able manner in which you have prepared and presented the application. Your abstract clearly demonstrates that you are not without able experience in this line of your profession. We have checked, however, that you have not claimed the title back of the year 1803 and before final approval can be accorded the application it will be necessary that titles be claimed back of that year. Yours very truly, etc."

The attorney perused the letter in utter disgust, profaned rather profusely, called his secretary, and dictated the following letter to the R.F.C.: "Gentlemen, Your letter regarding titles in case 189150 received. I note your wish titles to extend further than I have presented them. I was unaware that any educated man in the world failed to know that Louisiana was purchased by the United States from France in 1803. The title to the land was acquired by France by right of conquest from Spain. The land came into the possession of Spain by right of discovery in 1492 by a Spanish-Portuguese sailor named Christopher Columbus who had been granted the privilege of seeking a new route to India by the then reigning monarch, Queen Isabella. The good Queen, being a pious woman and being careful about titles (almost as careful, I might say, as the R.F.C.) took the precaution of securing the blessings of the Pope upon the voyage before she sold her kingdom to help Columbus. Now the Pope, as you know, is the emissary of Jesus Christ, who is the son of God. God, it is commonly accepted, is the person who made the world. Therefore, I believe it is safe to presume that He also made that part of the United States which is Louisiana and I hope to Hell you're satisfied."

MISS. CROPS IN EXCELLENT SHAPE

State College Miss.—Crops are in good condition. Due to ideal weather, Mississippi agricultural extension agents reported recently, Cotton is above average and corn stands good.

Farmers are harvesting both crimson and white Dutch clovers for seed and are mowing pastures for hay, the agents said, adding that pastures are still in good condition.

"By the end of this week, practically all cotton will have been worked out," Cecil Black, county agricultural agent at Indianola said in his report which pointed out that soybean acreage has tripled and bean fields look better than they have in several years.

Worms have ceased to bother the various crops but thrips are still doing heavy damage to cotton in Sunflower County.

Tippah County farmers are getting their first full week in the fields due to weather, reported county agricultural extension agent Earnest Weatherly, Ripley.

Both cotton and corn are looking healthy and growing fast in Winston County, according to George B. Crain, county agricultural extension agent, at Louisville.

"Most farmers are out of the grass and can begin catching crickets and roaches for a day or two of fishing at the various lakes and ponds," Mr. Crain added.

Extension agricultural agent R. T. Hubson, Carthage, reports that cotton and corn stands are good and that they are in good state of cultivation.

"Harvesting of oats and crimson clovers will begin about Thursday," he said. "Pastures are exceptionally good and fat cattle are being marketed in increasing numbers."

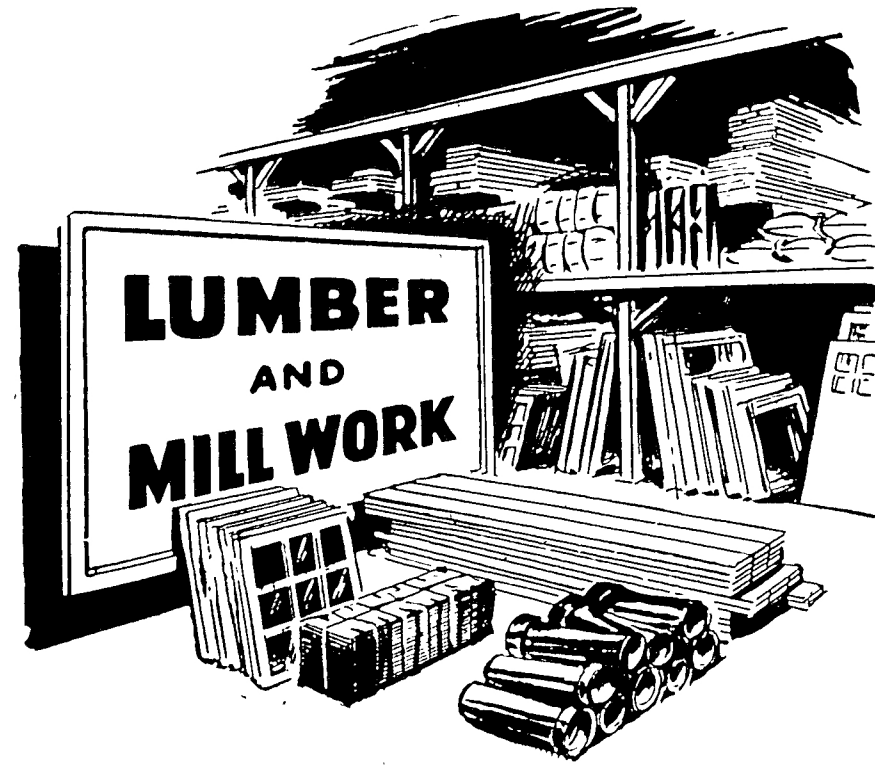

Pastures in Itasca County are still good during the hot, dry weather, although some farmers need rain, according to George L. Evans, county agricultural extension agent.

In Jackson County, farmers are combining white Dutch and crimson clovers this week, said M. P. Lewis, county agricultural agent at Pascagoula. Corn and truck crops look extra good, though some bud worms are working on late corn, he reported.

All sheep have been sheared and dipped for sheep scabies, the agent stated.

"Recent rains damaged crimson clover seed crop 50 to 70 per cent in Calhoun County," said county agricultural agent R. A. Anderson. "Some farmers are mowing their pastures to insure continued grazing."

Sweet potato acreage has increased 12 to 15 per cent this year. Potato plants production has been good but prices are down 15 to 40 per cent, he said.

Special Pentecost Services At Church Our Lady Of The Gulf Last Sunday

The altars of the Church of Our Lady of the Gulf were magnificent Sunday in honor of Pentecost. Gold vases held crimson gladioli, the exact shade of the vestments used at Mass; crimson, for the fiery tongues which appeared with the descent of the Holy Ghost upon the Apostles. There were seventy-two gladioli representing the 72 disciples, and groups of seven were placed on the main altar to represent the seven gifts of the Holy Ghost:

1. Wisdom, an illumination which enables our intellect to look at revealed truths in their more sublime light to the greater joys of our souls.

2. Understanding, which enlightens us by shedding a clear, searching and extraordinary light on the meaning of revealed truth.

3. Counsel, by which our practical intellect sees and judges rightly what should be done in individual cases and the best means to do it.

4. Fortitude, a permanent power which is communicated to our will to assist us in overcoming the difficulties which might deter us in the practice of what is right.

5. Knowledge, which shows us the credibility and acceptability of revealed truths.

6. Piety, which awakens in our souls an inclination and readiness to honor

God as our Father and to have a final confidence in him.

7. Fear of God, actually the foundation of all other gifts. It drives us from the heart, because it fills us with reverence either for the justice of God or for the divine Majesty.

WAVELAND WANDERINGS

By
Mrs. Georgetown Hall

Perhaps one of the greatest charms of the Gulf Coast is its luxuriant foliage, its coniferous trees and flowers that add beauty to gardens and roadsides the year round. We have all enjoyed to the fullest the azalea and camellia season, the weeks of the Easter lilies and gladioli and we must now pay tribute to the waving beauty of the delicate colored and white oleander. Many of our beach homes here in Waveland are bordered with these blossom filled shrubs giving new beauty to home and garden.

The oleander is a native of the Mediterranean region and is characterized by its tall shrubby habit and its thick lance shaped opposite leaves which exude a milky juice when punctured. The oleander is not a new flower. It was known to the Greeks under three names, viz. rhododendron, nerion and rhododaphne. It is well described by Pliny who mentions its rose-like flowers and poisonous qualities. The oleander has long been cultivated in greenhouses, where numerous varieties have been produced, differing in the color of their flowers. So when you pass an oleander shrub along the road, enjoy it. Remember the Greeks had a word for it, even if we can't pronounce it!

The Town of Waveland is making life more comfortable for Wavelanders and visitors. We notice that a large extension is being built onto the Waveland Public Pier to provide sitting space and shade for those who wish them. This pier has provided a great source of pleasure to summer visitors.

The Parents' Club of the Waveland School will sponsor a minstrel and stage show by Kid Saucier's Country Play Boys in the School auditorium on June 15, at 8:00 p.m. Admission will be thirty-five and fifteen cents.

Miss Jeanne Tanet was graduated with honors from Millsaps College in Jackson, Mississippi, on Monday, May 29. Mr. and Mrs. Tanet and son, Joe Tanet, went up to Millsaps for the graduation exercises.

Rededication:

WHAT IT MEANS

OLD IDEAS—NEW LAND

By James William Sells

The sense of drama is one of the gifts of genius.

Thus it is when a great leader of men seeks to interpret an idea and its full meaning to his fellowmen, he wraps the idea up in a great dramatic act and lives it out before his followers. From the height of a great mountain top, Moses brought two great tablets of stone and placed them where all his camp followers might read the ten great words written thereon. If he had merely returned from his visit with the Eternal and given the words to the people, they would have laughed him to scorn. But when they saw those mighty tablets and heard how God had written the words with his own finger, they could understand and remember the importance of the ten laws of life. Throughout all history

Bordages Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Gibson, Sr., had as their guests over the week end their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Gibson, Jr.

Miss Hope Wilkerson has gone to Jackson, Mississippi, for a short visit. She will return shortly to New Orleans where she plans to work.

The family of Mr. and Mrs. W. Ruhr on Nicholson Avenue are busy with building plans these days. They have torn down the old family home to rebuild a lovely new one within the next few weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Perrillat and daughter spent the week end in their lovely home on Nicholson Avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Oxenham recently sold their attractive cottage on Nicholson Avenue to Mr. and Mrs. Peter Monroe. The Oxenhams are planning a trip abroad within the near future.

Sympathy is extended to Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester Rome and family upon the death of his father in New Orleans.

Brother Forrest Blount, visiting minister of the Clermont Harbor Methodist Church, will hold vesper hour at 7:30 p.m. The general public is invited.

Miss Betty Herlihy is home for the summer from Ole Miss. She is spending her vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Herlihy.

Miss Shirley Turcotte spent the week end at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Turcotte, on Bordages Lane.

Congratulations are extended to Johnny McCurdy who was selected to go to Boys' State this summer. Johnny is the son of Mrs. S. Mauffray.

men have remembered and pointed to them as the way men should live.

When Martin Luther wanted to demonstrate to all the world his stand against certain doctrines, he dramatically nailed his protestations to the closed door of the church. Men might forget his speeches, but they would never forget the sight of the hand written paper with the nail driven through it and the closed door of the church.

So it was when certain men wanted to demonstrate to all the world their doctrine concerning the rights of man to adventure in the unknown world of the mind. They betook themselves to a small ship and sailed through the rough seas toward an unknown land. These ideas concerning the rights of man are not new ideas to the face of man. But they were new to the generation in which they lived and could not be worked out within the framework of their present political and social government.

So when those few Pilgrims landed on the stormy coast of an unfriendly shore in the bleak December of 1620 they forever dramatized their belief in themselves and in their God-given rights and privileges to live as free men in a free world. From the faith wrapped within their minds flowered a New England and a nation that now is in danger of losing the very things for which the nation was founded.

It was a new land in 1620 to which they brought their old ideas, and it was a new civilization which came from the combination of old ideas and new land. Ours is a new land in 1950, too. It is not a new and undiscovered land, for the frontiers of American civilization have been pushed into the waters of the Pacific, but it is a new land in the sense that it is faced with new duties, new privileges, new responsibilities, and new leadership.

Through the centuries the followers of the early Pilgrims have carried to America, bringing with them the same ideas and doctrines from which the Pilgrims sought to flee. Now this new land is about to become engulfed and enveloped with doctrines and ideas which the Pilgrims found unworthy and under which they are unwilling to live under.

America cannot remain America unless she returns to the faith of the founding fathers of this nation and build her world leadership on that faith.

Thus it is a dramatic demonstration of their faith in America and an understanding of their responsibility as true servants of the people that is causing the editors of America's small town papers to journey this June to Plymouth Rock for the Pilgrimage of Rededication to the ideals and ideas of freedom and faith in which this nation was founded. It means that these men have faith in the old ideas and are willing to put them to work in the new land that is America today.

If you are interested in the ideals that are sending the members of the National Editorial Association on a Mid-Century Pilgrimage of Rededication to Plymouth Rock, in June, 1950, please write this paper for a free statement and explanation.

TOUCHSTONE QUILTS
EDUCATION POST

Jackson, Miss.—Dr. T. N. Touchstone, director of instruction for the state department of education since 1946, resigned last Saturday to become superintendent of the Mississippi Children's Home Society.

Dr. Touchstone succeeds J. O. Snowden, former superintendent of schools at Marks after leaving the society post.

J. M. Tubbs, state superintendent of education, said Dr. Touchstone's successor has not yet been named.

Dr. Touchstone, a graduate of Mississippi college in 1917, spent two years in the Army in World War I, returned to become principal of Pocatent Consolidated school, and then successfully was superintendent of schools at Brooksville, Marks and Amory before being named state supervisor of secondary schools in 1945.

The nearly 5,000 national banks of the country made net profits of $475,000,000 in 1949, a net return of eight per cent on invested capital, according to the Comptroller of the Currency. This compared with net profits of $424,000,000 and a 7.47 per cent return on capital funds in 1948.

TWO POWER COMPANIES TO COMBINE SERVICES FOR A BOMB PROJECT

The TVA and Mississippi Power & Light Company are providing at Batesville, Mississippi, another major interconnection between their two systems.

One of the most important uses of the new interconnection will be to make available next year some power from the Middle South Utilities system and power can be completed. Mississippi Power & Light Company and the other companies in the Middle South system are building new power plants that will provide considerable reserve capacity next year, and arrangements are being made to deliver some of that power to Oak Ridge for a temporary period.

TVA is increasing the voltage of its Tupelo-Pontotoc-Sardis line from 44,000 volts to 110,000 volts, with a five-fold increase in its capacity, and is extending this line to interconnect with the system of Mississippi Power & Light Company at Batesville. Both the Company and TVA are making additions to the substation at Batesville.

The interconnection is expected to be in service about January, 1951. This connection will permit the transfer of large quantities of power from one system to the other from time to time, either to meet emergencies or whenever operating economics can be achieved. The reliability of service will be improved for consumers in North Mississippi served from either system.

Mississippi Power & Light Company is part of the Middle South Utilities system, which also includes Arkansas Power & Light Company, Louisiana Power & Light Company, and New Orleans Public Service, Inc. Power from each of these companies, or for use by any of them, can be transferred over the new interconnection. The TVA transmission system is already interconnected at two locations, both near Memphis, with the companies of the Middle South group. One of the present interconnections is with the Arkansas Power & Light Company, and the other is with Mississippi Power & Light Company.

Both Mississippi Power & Light Company and TVA are now connected with neighboring power systems at a number of points. The operators of the interconnection systems are in frequent contact, and power is interchanged in large amounts.
